

Box Model

Today I learned about Box Model from online platform w3schools. It is used for design and layout of an HTML element. It consists 4 parts: Margin, Padding, Border, Content.

While applying Box Model I wrote some contents inside of a div part and then gave it class for adding CSS properties. Then I applied the properties like: margin, padding, height, width, border, border radius to style an element .