

Flex Box

Flex box style mainly makes the layout responsive. It is best when one wants the element to be on the desired place. It makes the webpage's look neat and attractive when visited. It has many properties like: display, justify content, align items, flex direction etc.

Where justify content aligns the elements horizontally how the user desires and align items aligns the elements vertically within the range set by the user. There are many properties like flex-grow, flex-shrink, flex-wrap etc. They all have different uses which help the website to be responsive and look attractive for the viewer.